LATEST VICTIM OF
DIVORCE

Another innocent victim of the divorce evil has appeared in the limelight.

It is Fido.

Fido finds himself a "hone of contentment between master and mistress
 as they near the parting of the ways.

Charles Erbstein, Chicago attorney says the custody of a pedigreed dog has been a difficult factor in many of his divorce cases recently, sometimes ending in the agreement that each shall have the dog for six months of the year.

All of which causes us to wonder what we are coming to anyway. When a man and woman who have taken the marriage vows come to prefer the society of a dog to that of each other,
 it would seem that the reflection were rather in favor of the dog.

There is, however, one consoling feature of the situation. While the controversy is going on, Fido remains blissfully ignorant of the impending tragedy, unlike innocent children whose hearts are often torn by rival affections for their unhappy parents.

THE GIFT CORN MISSION

Farmers of the United States deserve recognition for their willingness to give 50,000,000 bushels of corn
 to starving Europe.

The Gift Corn Relief mission is under the personal direction of Carl S.
 Vrooman, formerly assistant secretary of agriculture. The corn has been officially accepted by Herbert Hoover,
 in charge of European relief work.

Ship crews and railroad workmen
 will man the trains and ships to transport the corn to the needy countries
 without compensation. Presidents William of the R. & O.; Finley, of the Chicago & Northwestern, and Markham, of the Illinois Central, say their roads stand ready to furnish the equipment.

Farmers will transport their corn to the local elevator, where it will be shelled and the country farm agent will arrange to have the corn shipped to centers where full cars will be made up and shipped to export points.
 There still exists in the human heart the spirit of humanity.

THE COST OF BEING POLITE

The American public could save $3, 000,000 a year in telegraph tolls by discontinuing the use of the word
 "please" in telegrams.

But what profit hath it that the people save $3,000,000 a year, and lose something of the sweetness of courtesy.

There may be efficiency engineers
 and cost economists hunting for pennies to save, who will be shocked by such seeming waste of words and money. But Americans, spending $3, 000,000 a year on one courteous word
 are investing well and wisely.

It is really gratifying to find American spending so much on one word of courtesy when so many of us are lax in words and deeds of courtesy that cost us nothing at all.

Courtesy is a sweetening element in the ordinary relations of our common life. We are not impolite people, but we are in a hurry and in our hurry
 we take the rougher way when the smoother one is so much easier.

It was a source of never-ending delight among men of the A. E. F. to hear ticket sellers at railroad stations
 and clerks in postoffices in France,
 say "merci monsieur" (thank you
 sir) when the sale of a stamp or ticket
 was concluded.

It was as if one had done them a service by buying a ticket or a stamp.
 Courtesy has become second nature
 among the French.

Recently some newspapers have been awarding cash prizes to polite folks discovered by reporters. These were special rewards, but, in truth, courtesy always has paid, one way or another. The old nursery rhyme said it well:

Kind hearts are gardens,
 Kind thoughts are roots,
 Kind words are blossoms,
 Kind deeds are fruits.

First they court-martial navy aviators for not quitting their balloons soon enough and now a mail-viator is on the carpet for using a parachute
 too soon.

Charles Gilpin's seat at the Drama League banquet promises to become as famous as John Gilpin's seat on a horse.

A paragrapher asks what has happened to the old-fashioned wife. You'll find her at the polls if Mrs. Calvin Coolidge ever runs for office.

Hiram Johnson will help fight New York traction bills. Golly, isn't there trouble enough at the other end of the continent to keep him busy.

ORMOND

What may be called a bold theft of a Standard car took place early Sunday morning from the yard of Mr.
 Stanton on the Dixie Highway. The car belonged to J. K. Totman, of Erie, Pa. He had retired, but hearing a peculiar noise, sprang to the window in time to see the car leaving the yard and headed north. After daylight Sunday morning a trip was made north, following tire tread and oil
 marks, following tire tread and oil marks north, smashed in pieces and burned. The party who drove the car evidently took the wrong road, over two sand piles, several logs and
 into a palmetto tree with great force,
 and the car is a complete wreck.

Geo. Sturtevant, who has a dairy and vegetable farm, suffered a shock Friday last, effecting one side and is confined to his bed and may be unable to work any more.

The recent fair of the Ormond
 Union church, held at Hotel Ormond,
 was a great success, netting the church
 $1,400. Great credit is due the ladies for their efforts to make this a pleasant social event.

UNCLE GEORGE'S
SUNDAY MORNING
SERMON

Hotel Clarendon,
 Seabreeze, March 4.

Editor Daily News:

The Triple Cities, or the Long
 City of the Halifax, extending from Ormond on the north and New Smyrna on the south, is one of the most beautiful places on earth. No other city can boast of being thirty-three and one-third miles long and having one hundred miles of water front, and every foot of it available for building purposes. We have no million dollar residences here, but we have more good, comfortable homes, varying from $10,000 to $50,000 and $100,000 and the finest class of people that can be found in any city of its size. It is bound to grow and grow rapidly. We couldn't stop it if we would.

We have some undesirable, of course, as every city has, but they are comparatively few, and they are so well known that they do not pull off as many foul stunts as they otherwise would. We know one thing that if we keep our city free from crooks
 of all kinds that we will have a good clean city in which to live and to bring up our children. We also know if we should allow professional crooks
 to work our tourists, that the better class would not come here, and I claim that the Triple Cities is a pretty safe place in which to spend the winter as well as to live in. Occasionally we like all cities, have some dirty sneak thieves who would rob a church and chase the minister after his shoes, or grab a woman's purse, but these cases are few and far between.

When more extreme cases occur we should follow the example of the vigilance committee in the Wild West and get rid of them, for they are a great detriment to any community. I was in Cheyenne, Wyoming, in 1896,
 a few weeks after they had organized there, and was told how the committees went to the three worst crooks and told them that unless they took the 11:00 p. m. train west that night that their bodies would be hanging on tripods on three different corners of the street. They did not go, but their carcasses were hanging in identically

the same spot designated and promised by the committee, and they were left hanging there all the following day
 with this sign: "Warning to crooks" on each one. That day was the beginning of law and order in the city of Cheyenne. This may be a little ancient history, but nevertheless it is absolutely true. Should such an occurrence come to us here, which I do not believe ever will, then let us put up a sign, same as one used during the war in an eastern town at a corner of the road, where there was a country graveyard. It read as follows: "Volunteers Wanted: wake up, your country needs you."

I have not a thing to direct except an added old brain and pen, and ask These I am willing to use to the limit
 if the more necessary action, concent. Far-sighted industries will not be backward in equipping forward.
 Gentlemen, at your door are unequalled opportunities. I ask you to remember the sign at the country graveyard, to wake up and get busy and work for a big city and a great city. We have the promise of our big boss man, Mr. Tiras, and his promise is good; he will not only do his part in making the city clean, but he will insist largely upon building it up.
 Yours truly,
 UNCLE GEORGE VAN PELT.

The News' huge $5,000 Salesmanship Club Campaign is undoubtedly the largest thing ever attempted by any similar publication in the history of the state, and anyone in this territory may have a share in it if they are as ambitious as they should be and have enough guts to spend at least a few minutes toward the winning of votes. Any white lady with a little red blood in her veins can enter NOW and be leading the entire list by the first count of votes, because of the thousands of extra votes that are given free with certain amounts of money turned in before March 12. This first period will count more than anything else toward the winning of the prize automobiles, for, remember, the one that tries now will receive 100,000 extra votes over and above the regular vote schedule on every basis of $1.00 turned in before the close of the first period, March 12, 1934.

"HOW I LEAPED FROM ROOF OF WORLD"

Richard Reed Thompson on a dare went down to his death from the roof of the world, where he leaped from a height of 20,000 feet and landed safely with a parachute. The parachute had opened for a few seconds, but it failed to open properly, and he fell to his death.

As Suggests Reed Thompson

Richard Reed Thompson, who was killed in a parachute jump from the roof of the world, was a man of many talents. He was a writer, a speaker, and a daredevil. He was known for his stunts and his ability to perform under pressure.

Thompson's jump from the roof of the world was a feat of courage and skill. He had spent months preparing for the jump, and he was confident that he would survive. However, the parachute failed to open properly, and he fell to his death.

Thompson's death was a tragedy, but it was also a testament to his courage and skill. He was a man who lived on the edge, and he was willing to take risks for the sake of his art.

St. Patrick's Day Will Be Fittingly Celebrated Here

There is no doubt but that St. Patrick's Day will be properly celebrated in Daytona this year. For the past few years the "Seventeenth of Ireland" has been "only a memory here and St. Patrick's Day has not been observed either by the general public or the politicians. But this year it will be different. At a meeting last night in which several patriotic citizens participated it was determined to celebrate March 17th in appropriate fashion.

T. H. Lacy, advertising manager of the Daytona Daily News, was appointed chairman with authority to appoint another committee. In speaking of the celebration Lacy said: "St. Patrick's Day should be generally observed, regardless of creed, by all true Americans. Personally I am a Baptist but I realize that Catholics, Protestants and all who believe in upholding the faith of a fearless people should join in the line of march on March 17. As Americans we admire Ireland. We know what St. Patrick's day means to struggling humanity throughout the world and next to America we take off our hats to the Emerald Isle. We believe in justice, and intend to tell the world that we stand for the freedom of Ireland, the payment of debts to America by England, the collection of proper indemnity from Germany and the restoration of French territory. Justice is the motto of Ireland. Let all who believe in justice turn out of St. Patrick's day."

Raymond DeLong of Chicago Here Visiting Friends

Raymond P. DeLong, of Chicago, who represents the Armour company stock in the Chicago National Baseball club, is a visitor in Daytona at this time, expecting to visit in Orlando next week, and will later return here. Mr. DeLong has spent several seasons in the past in the Triple Cities, in company with Jimmy Archer, famous Cub catcher, who, he says, is now a hot buyer for the Armour company at Chicago, and cannot find time between buying hops to spend the season here as he used to do.

Mr. DeLong, who is in close touch with Chicago Cub affairs, believes the Chicago Nationals have a team this year that will give all others a run for the buntings, particularly as Johnny Evers is back in the fold, much to the satisfaction of Windy City fans. Evers will look after the destinies of the Cubs this year, in the city where he gained much fame as a member of the triumvirate of Frank, Chance, Joe Thicker and Johnny Evers.

Mr. DeLong will visit Tucker at Orlando while in Florida and is getting in touch with those who might be able to dig up a world beater for the Florida State League for the Cubs this season.

What is acclaimed to be a record score on the Daytona Golf and Country club course, and thought to be a record for this section, was made Saturday afternoon on the nine-hole course of that club by James Shephard, Jr., professional, in a match with Mr. Clark.

The two golfers were playing a bridge game, and the young professional was at his best. The score was as follows: 4-5-3-4-4-4-5-36. Young Shephard is one of the best known and liked golfers in this section, and his many friends will be proud to hear of his new achievement.

The members of the Triple Cities Tourist club will enjoy an all day outing and boat trip up the Tomoka river Thursday, visiting Sunset Park, the home of alligators, and other places of interest, according to an announcement of the committee appointed to arrange this outing.

At the meeting of the Tourist club last Monday at the Casino Burgoyne it was decided that an all day outing be held, and a committee appointed to make the plans and set the date. This committee was composed of George Van Pelt and L. T. Mather.

Saturday afternoon arrangements were completed between Messrs. Van Pelt and Mather and Captain Nutting, controlling the Nutting boat excursions, for two large river boats to carry the club up the river.

The two boats will be capable of carrying 65 persons each with comfort. This, it is said, will care for the entire membership of the club.

The announcement of the date will be made at the regular weekly meeting, to be held at Casino Burgoyne, Monday afternoon, at which time Michigan has been appointed to furnish the program for the afternoon.

CHARLIE WAS IN HIGH; POLICE IN LOW GEAR; GONE

Marshall W. D. Young failed to bring back from Jacksonville, Charles High, the alleged light-fingered gentleman who is charged with the embezzlement of one hundred good honest dollars from W. J. Sheppard of the Economy Meat Market.

But it was not Bill's fault. He has the shippy gent located all right and the Jacksonville police department sent a plain clothes man after him and he had no trouble finding him at his mother's home.

"I am perfectly willing to go with you," said the individual who is high in stature as well as in name, "but please let me kiss my dear mother good bye."

Of course the officer would not be so cold hearted as to refuse such a request, but he went along to the kissing. Mother was in bed and as soon as "Slick Charlie" had given mother one good smack, he jumped over the bed and out of the window and the plain clothes detective has not seen him nor had of him since.

This is why Bill did not bring Charlie back to Daytona Beach.

HAVE STOCK OF FINE LIQUORS, DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH IT

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Mar. 5.—Fear that the Volstead act may result in the loss of several thousand dollars bequeathed to local welfare organizations was expressed here by the administrator of the estate of the late Charles R. Ferrin, president of a large printing and stationery establishment.

The Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association and the Salvation Army are joint owners of $10,000 worth of bottled in bond whiskey, gin, wines, cordials and champagne, and they would like to have Mr. Kramer or some of his "expert" assistants disclose just how they can raise the coin without violating the law.

Want Money, Not Booze.

The organizations do not care for the booze, they say, but could very handsly use the $10,000 or more that it represents in charitable work, and the question of getting the money is not only agitating the three organizations, but many Colorado Springs citizens as well. Scores of wealthy folks in "Little Linnon" are prepared to buy the pre-war assortment if someone will only pass along the legal permission.

When Ferrin died a year ago he left an estate valued at approximately $100,000 to be divided equally among the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and the S. A.—after numerous money bequests had been paid to old-time friends.

Included in Ferrin's estate were cases of fine liquors and wines purchased by him before Colorado went dry in 1913 at a cost of $5,000. Ferrin had disposed of very little of the choice assortment when he died, and it is conservatively estimated that the liquors are now worth in excess of $10,000—and much more at "bootleg" prices.

The Ferrin estate has been settled—all except the booze, and no one

"HOW I LEAPED FROM ROOF OF WORLD"

Sergeant Ensl Chambers set a new world record at Post Field near Lawton, Okla., when he leaped from an airplane at a height of 22,200 feet and descended safely with a parachute. The previous high record for a parachute jump was 20,000 feet. Sergeant Chambers tells Daily News readers here of the thrills and sensations he experienced.

By Sergeant Ensl Chambers

LAWTON, Okla., Mar. 5.—"It's great sport to leap from 'the roof of the world.'"

A jump of four miles is real fun. There isn't much danger of this sport becoming a favorite with the multitudes, though once you've tried parachute-jumping, you have a craving to leap from higher and higher altitudes.

I broke a world record in leaping from 22,200 feet as registered by the altimeter of my pilot, Lieutenant Paul T. Wagner, but that is just a start. I'm going to jump from a higher point.

They tried to dissuade us from making the attempt when we did, for a 50-mile gale was blowing and it made landing in a parachute dangerous. We battled for an hour in our De Havilland to attain our height.

We were not equipped with oxygen tanks and, this being the highest altitude I ever had reached, I was nearly overcome. I didn't realize this until I had started to rise for my leap. I was so weak I could scarcely get to my feet.

In my youth I had always been fond of leaping, but when I looked over the side of our ship it seemed like a long way for a jump. Old Mount Scott looked like a miniature mudhouse.

Wagner Gives Signal.

I was so bitterly cold that I felt I was going under. Lieutenant Wagner looked back and told me afterward we saw by my pale face that I was going to jump at all I would have to do it then.

He gave the signal. Scrambling over the side of the plane, I dove head first with all the effort I could muster. I had to dive far out to avoid being cracked by the control wires on the plane's tail.

I felt like a rock for at least 5000 feet before I could seize the ripcord that held the cover of my parachute and jerk it out.

I remember little of that fall. My actions were mechanical. I do know that I fumbled a bit in getting the ripcord out. I was weak.

A light breeze caught the parachute as it unfurled. A whiff of a flutter of silk, and I was floating at an altitude of about 17,000 feet. The plane had disappeared. I was in a daze from the lightness of the atmosphere and the cold.

There is always danger of silk parachutes igniting from friction, so, for emergency, I had a second parachute strapped in front of me. The ground was rising up rapidly to meet me, so at an altitude of about 10,000 feet I slung the second parachute open.

Then the gale in the lower altitude caught me and I was skittled in the high wind for miles across the Fort Hill reservation, unable to free myself.

My parachute at last caught in a tree, and I scrambled safely to earth. I had taken me approximately 20 minutes to land from an altitude of four miles.

My hope is that next time Lieutenant Wagner can carry me several thousand feet higher.

Many Yachts to Compete in Trans-Atlantic Race

By JACK VEIOCK,
NEW YORK, March 5.—American yachtsmen will leave no sail unfurled in their effort to uphold this country's supremacy on the water during the coming summer.

Plans are already under way for improving sailing craft to be entered in the big international trans-Atlantic race for King Albert's cup next July, and work of building four "six metre" yachts that are to race at Cowes, England, next August has already begun.

The big prize for the gold trophy offered by Belgium's monarch is expected to attract no less than twenty-five entries, for the contest is to be a free-for-all event, the only stipulation of the donor being that all entrants shall be wind-propelled vessels. Not a few of the American entrants will be auxiliaries, but their engines will remain sealed until after they have crossed the finish line at Ostend, unless they encounter mishaps which would compel them to withdraw from competition.

No Handicap Restrictions.

One of the features of the race that tends to make it the greatest maritime sporting event ever attempted is the fact that it is to be a boat for boat affair. No entrant will enjoy a handicap and no time allowance, based on complicated measurements, will be granted. The first yacht to cross the line of the Belgian coast at Ostend will be declared the winner.

The races last summer between the Shamrock IV and the Resolute off Sandy Hook demonstrated plainly enough that the public is not interested in involved handicapping, which often makes a loser out of the vessel finishing first. Again, the absence of such things as time allowance based on sail area, etc., is expected to encourage Yankee ingenuity in rigging up entrants for the big event.

Fishermen Will Enter.

There is a good chance that vessels belonging to fishermen, such as the American, Esperanto, and the Canadian, Delawanna, which raced off Halifax last October, will greatly increase the field of expected entrants. Many of the "old salts" who own such vessels are of the opinion that in a 3,000-mile ocean race, such as the one for King Albert's cup will be, they would be able to sail rugs around a majority of amateur helmsmen and if permitted many of them will enter sloops.

Lipton Keen for It.

The expected entry of Sir Thomas Lipton will greatly increase interest in the event. Should the veteran Irish baronet get "into the swim" it will be for "blood," and, great sportsman that he is, it seems certain that he will be tempted. The Shamrock IV, by the way, might be rigged for transoceanic sailing, as she is of heavy type and a fast footer in turbulent water. It is believed, however, that Sir Thomas will enter a yacht of more sound ocean-going lines should he decide to get in.

King Alfonso of Spain, a yachting enthusiast for years, and King George of England may send yachts across the big pond for the race, according to talk going the rounds.

Yachtsmen Here-Busy.

Meanwhile yachtsmen on this side are bending their efforts to put every improvement possible into craft already built. Some of the probable entrants are:

about $20,000 in salary and allowances. Under the "courageous plan," Farr will be paid for an entire two years.

Curious Fact.

The people who are most accomplished do not always accomplish most.

JEALOUS OF JITNEYS

JERSEY CAR LINES FIND 'EM STIFF COMPETITION

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Jitneys in New Jersey threaten to put the street car lines out of business. A state-wide fight is on.

Streets in Newark and other New Jersey cities teem with jitneys. There are 2000 operated in 400 towns.

Jitneys, many people say, have solved the transportation problem. In Newark alone, jitneys carried 115,000 people daily in 1920. Each bus carries 20 to 30 people.

Adverse legislation, threats on the part of the Public Service Railways to remove them by force, have only served to make the jitneys flourish. Jitneys charge 5 cents. Street cars charge 7 cents and are campaigning for a 10-cent fare.

Public Service Railways operate street cars in 146 municipalities of New Jersey.

recently threatened to discontinue service in Patterson, residents of that city held a mass meeting and openly defied the railway officials to do so. "We can get along without you," said all of Patterson. "We'll use the jitneys."

The Halifax Country As a Mecca for Good Hotels

Embraced under a massive stretch of towering palms, mossed draped magnolias and live oak, and veritably a community of sunshine, flowers and music, justly has the Halifax Country, stretching along the world's most noted ocean boulevard and bathing beach, been styled "The Prettiest Winter Resort in the World."

Under this majestic trellis of natural ornament winds an artistic stream of neatly arranged roadways marked by smart cottages, private homes and elegantly laid out hotels. Here and there the scarlet red of the poinsettia lends delightful tone to the network of evergreen and shrubbery, forming such gorgeous outlines along the unstinted estates offsetting these buildings.

A community catering to the highest class of winter tourist clientele, to the health and pleasure seekers desiring to escape the fury of northern winters, must of necessity provide hostelries worthy of such a class.

The Halifax Country, supreme in nature-given beauties, ideal in climatic conditions, and the one spot where the sun shines down with invigorating, health-giving atmosphere, has left nothing undone in providing the most up-to-date, commodious and efficient hotels and hotel organizations, matching the natural attractions. Well over a half hundred hotels, ranging from the mammoth hostelries, with their thousand rooms, to the less pretentious, every day accommodations, dot the Halifax Country throughout its entire expanse.

Here small villas nestle among the beautifully laid out plots of flowers and shade trees, huge hotels grace the ocean front and river banks, and accommodations either modest or elaborate are obtainable through the season. In all, the spirit of happiness, contentment, cordiality and the atmosphere of home reigns supreme. Service, artistic arrangements and efficiency mark ever phase of accommodation for guests.

The management of all hotels in the Halifax Country are men trained to a high degree in the art of providing perfect accommodations. They are men trained to anticipate wants of their guests, as well as fulfilling expressed ones.

No better proof of the ideal and efficient hotel service given in the Halifax Country hostelries is necessary than the fact that the hotel life of this community, from season to season, is in a way but a renewal of friendships made in former years. The lure which the Halifax Country holds over one who has spent a season here, aided by the superlative accommodations provided, means in a large majority of cases, return visits to this garden spot year after year.

Although the Halifax Country is, because of its natural beauties and sublime climate, the playground of many millionaires, the Halifax Country is not a code word for a million dollar levy, an impression which usually might be gained by one who does not know that the social and commercial life of the Halifax Country rests securely in the hands of those who have adopted as an exacting foreword, fair play.

Therefore, the natural beauties of the locality, with the heaven-gift of a climate excelled by no other resort under the sun, it is little wonder that the Halifax Country, due largely to the efficiency of hotel service, has worked its way into the graces of all elements of appreciative tourists from every land on the globe.

The hotels of the Halifax Country extend a hand of welcome to all who would enjoy life amidst God-given beauties, where the skies have smiled down and where nature has answered that smile, in unfolding all her glories for the pleasure of mankind.

ANNE LUTHER IN NEW PRODUCTION AT THE SEABREEZE

POPULAR SCREEN STAR PORTRAYS DIFFICULT ROLE IN "WHY WOMEN SIN"

Anne Luther, the beautiful screen actress, who is starred in "Why Women Sin," the big feature production to be shown at the Seabreeze Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, is unanimously acclaimed by her critics to be one of the most versatile and popular screen favorites. And in "Why Women Sin," Miss Luther is given ample opportunity to display her remarkable histrionic talents.

Miss Luther who was born in Newark, N. J., is one of the youngest screen stars of today. Her screen career began under the direction of David Wark Griffith, who recognized her ability from the very beginning of Miss Luther's work, and whose prophecies regarding her popularity have been more than fulfilled.

When Miss Luther was co-starred with the late John Mason in "Moral Sittin'" the press throughout the country pronounced her one of the screen's most beautiful and greatest actresses, so spontaneous was the public applause shown.

Clever Talent To Mix It at Boxing Show on Monday

Far flies in fistina Monday evening when Company A National Guards, present for fistic fans, three bouts that promise to eclipse anything staged in this vicinity as far as mixing up, toe-to-toe fighting and scientific leather pushing is concerned.

Leading off with the prelims between Sgt. Jack Reynolds vs. Kid Mayer, who will travel over the six-round course, providing the gods of K. O. are lenient, and a four-round squall of ink dusting between Mike O'Dowell and an unknown. The climatic stage of the evening's pugilistic contest in the padded arena will come when Cracker Anderson faces the Big Swede for an eight-round test-tee with the four-ounces.

This is one of the high spots attained by the National Guards in their fight promoting. The Lewis LeMarin championship wrestling match marked the end of the third rate knuckle brawling in the Triple Cities, and this match, between the best men obtainable marks a new step toward cleaner, faster and better athletic exhibitions at the Armory.

Cracker Anderson, a fighter from the red hills of Georgia, has been in training here for the past week or so. He will weigh in at 191 pounds, and in the pink of condition for the match.

Big Swede, of Ford Plover, one of the most promising local talents, will tip the scales at 178 pounds, and when introduced to the light audience at the Armory Thursday night, appeared to be in excellent condition, and a first-rate fighter.

When these two men face each other in the padded arena, some of the fastest, cleanest and headiest hitting yet seen in a local ring is expected to ensue.

With the eight-round main bout between these two fighters backed up by two fast preliminary bouts, with clever boxing contesting for the sleep producing punch, the prices of admission, which are $2.00, $1.00, and $1.25, liberal admission, will be well spent by the great crowd of ring-side generals.

"HELIOTROPE" TO BE FEATURE AT THE NEW DAYTONA THIS WEEK

WOMAN QUAILS BEFORE A SPRIG OF HELIOTROPE

Why should an innocent sprig of heliotrope placed upon the table occupied by a fashionably dressed woman and her escort at a cabaret cause her to blanch with terror and pass swiftly from the gay crowd?

Why did she barricade her door and stand ready with drawn revolver, just because she sniffed the faint aroma of heliotrope perfume in her room?

When you see "Heliotrope," the feature attraction at the New Daytona Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, you'll say that there was reason enough.

This deeply appealing picture, adapted from the well known story by Richard Washburn Child, depicts the limits to which a father will go to protect the happiness of his daughter. Without for an instant descending into melodrama, it unfolds a plot that for sheer excitement has seldom been equaled. Wilfred Lytell, Frederick Burton, Diana Allen and Julia Savoy-Gordon are included in the cast, and George D. Baker directed and wrote the continuity for the picture. It is a Cosmopolitan Production released through Paramount.

VIRGINIA GIRLS TO BE ATTRACTION AT AUDITORIUM TUES.

Real Singing Orchestra Brings Sweet Melodies of Southland to an Evening of Charm

They will "carry you back to old Virginia," simply transport your spirit on the wings of song when the Virginia Girls are heard in concert on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Here is a musical organization of a most unusual kind, a "singing orchestra." Not only is every member of this well known Virginia Girls quartette an artist on her chosen instrument, each is a possessor of a voice of pleasing charm, and on Tuesday evening when they appear in the Auditorium, they will be heard in a program of three old plantation melodies which are America's real folk music, together with instrumental solos and ensemble numbers of rare delight. Attractive costume surprises vary the evening's entertainment. Their music-ship would do credit to some of the famous chamber music organizations of the country. Their program is filled with those old melodies of the southland, certain to delight their every hearer.
